

Science 20

1.	Found in your mouth, what are your cuspids otherwise known as?	Canine teeth
2.	The first famously cloned sheep of 1996 was named after which country singer?	Dolly Parton (because the sheep was cloned from mammary cells)
3.	Ethylene glycol is better known as what that you would use in the car?	Antifreeze
4.	Chang and Eng Bunker were the first recorded people have what medical anomaly?	Siamese twins
5.	Which instrument is used for measuring atmospheric pressure?	Barometer
6.	What disease did Edward Jenner develop an effective vaccine for?	Smallpox
7.	What famous toxic oily addictive liquid (C ₁₀ H ₁₄ N ₂) turns brown on exposure to air?	Nicotine
8.	How many naturally occurring noble gases are there?	6
9.	An olfactometer measures what sense?	Smell
10.	In computing, what does DSL stand for?	Digital subscriber line